

Contents

	ix
Notes on contributors	ix
Foreword	xiii
LINDA WOODHEAD
Preface	xvi
ÖZLEM SANDIKCI AND ALIAKBAR JAFARI
Introduction: Islam in consumption, marketing and markets	1
ALIAKBAR JAFARI AND ÖZLEM SANDIKCI
PART I
Beyond the brand 'Islamic'	15
1 What is in a name that we call 'Islam'? A critical inquiry into the semiotic construction of super-brand Ummah	17
AHMET K. SÜERDEM
2 Marketing Islam in a 'double minority' setting: the case of Singapore	46
JOHAN FISCHER
3 Poverty and socioeconomic injustice in Muslim geographies	61
BIGE SAATÇIOĞLU, ÖZLEM SANDIKCI AND ALIAKBAR JAFARI

Bige Saatçioğlu is Associate Professor of Geography at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, USA. She is the co-editor of the Journal of

PART II

Islam and Islamic representations in the fashionscape 81

- 4 The commercial limits of the Ummah? National and regional taste distinctions in the modest fashion market 83

REINA LEWIS

- 5 Images of desire: creating virtue and value in an Indonesian Islamic lifestyle magazine 102

CARLA JONES

- 6 What makes a commodity Islamic? The case of veiling-fashion in Turkey 123

BANU GÖKARIKSEL AND ANNA J. SECOR

PART III

Towards a reflexive account of theorization 139

- 7 An Islamic model of marketing ethics: a critical analysis from contemporary perspectives 141

M. YUNUS ALI

- 8 Islam, the free market and economy 156

MUN LOONG WONG

- 9 Authenticity, religious identity and consumption: a reflexive (auto)ethnographic account 173

MONA MOUFAHIM

Glossary 194

Index 198