Your institution can choose to have the test administered by a professional testing agency or by a trained staff member. Institutions also score the test on-site. Each section of the test is scored separately, and there is also a total score. Section scores will help you understand which specific skills need improvement and help you plan your further study of English. Your institution will determine minimum acceptable scores.

Your TOEFL ITP scores are valid for two years. However, scores are generally only valid at the institution where the test was administered.
